Company Update | PTT Exploration and Production (PTTEP TB/BUY/Bt157.00/Target: Bt185.00)

Page 2

We expect PTTEP's 1Q26 net profit to decline qoq and yoy due to significant hedging losses, while core profit could remain strong, supported by higher sales volume and improved selling prices. Looking ahead, we anticipate 2Q26 net profit increasing qoq and yoy, driven by stronger crude oil prices. We have revised our crude oil price assumption to US$80/bbl and raised our 2026 net profit forecast by 23%. Maintain BUY with a higher target price of Bt185.00 (previously Bt150.00).

Analysis

- 1Q26 net profit expected to decline qoq and yoy. We estimate PTT Exploration & Production's (PTTEP) 1Q26 net profit at Bt8.90b, down 49% qoq and 46% yoy, mainly due to a substantial oil hedging loss of Bt8.0b and a forex loss of Bt318m. Excluding these items, we project 1Q26 core profit at Bt17.21b, rising 33% qoq and 4% yoy, driven by: a) ASP of US$45.26/bbl, up 6.4% qoq, supported by higher gas and liquid selling prices; b) sales volume of 545,000 barrel oil equivalence per day (BOED), up 2% qoq, from production ramp-up in the Gulf of Thailand in line with stronger domestic demand; and c) unit cost of US$29.80/bbl, down 7.4% qoq, due to lower opex, selling general and administrative (SG&A) expenses, and exploration expenses.

Key Assumption

	----- 2026F -----
	Old	New	%Chg.
Sales Volume (KBOED)	556	556	0%

- 2Q26 earnings outlook. We expect 2Q26 net profit to increase both qoq and yoy, driven by: a) higher crude oil prices qoq amid Middle East tensions, with qtd prices at US$101.50/bbl (vs US$85.16/bbl in 1Q26); b) stronger sales volumes, projected at 550,000-560,000 BOED, up 2% qoq; and c) the impact from a reduction in hedging losses. Although unit costs are likely to rise qoq due to higher royalties and opex in line with oil prices, we expect 2Q26 unit costs to remain below US$31/bbl.
- No positive signals from the Middle East. Although more oil tankers have recently begun transiting the Strait of Hormuz, overall shipment volumes remain low. Organization Of The Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) reported that March production declined by 7.30 million barrels per day (MBD) to 21.70 MBD — the lowest level since Jun 20 during the COVID-19 pandemic. While the latest OPEC meeting approved a production increase of 0.21 MBD for Apr 26, implementation appears highly unlikely given ongoing geopolitical tensions. In addition, the International Energy Agency estimates that around 12 MBD of oil supply has been removed from the market, due to damage to more than 40 energy infrastructure sites in the Middle East and the closure of the Strait of Hormuz.
- Revise up crude oil price assumption. We revise our 2026 crude oil price assumption to US$80.00/bbl (from US$67.00/bbl), driven by heightened geopolitical uncertainty in the Middle East amid the conflict, which has significantly lifted oil prices. With a peace agreement remaining unlikely, we expect crude prices to stay elevated — particularly in 2Q26. This compares with the ytd average of US$86.50/bbl.
- Sensitivity. Every US$1.00/bbl decrease in oil prices would lower our 2026 core profit forecast by 1.6%, or Bt1.10b per year. Our Dubai oil price assumption for 2026 is US$80/bbl. Every US$1.00/bbl decline in unit cost would increase our 2026 core profit forecast by 2.9%, or Bt2.00b per year.

Valuation/Recommendation

- Maintain BUY with a higher target price of Bt185.00 (previously Bt150.00), based on an average five-year regional forward PE of 10x. We raise our target price to reflect the upward revision to our 2026 net profit forecast. In 2026, we expect PTTEP to pay a dividend of Bt9.50/share, based on a 50% dividend payout ratio. In the oil and gas sector, we prefer Thai Oil (TOP TB/BUY/Target: Bt58.00) and Indorama Ventures (IVL TB/BUY/Target: Bt27.00).

Earnings Revision/Risk

- Revise up 2026 net profit forecast. We raise our 2026 net profit forecast by 23% from our previous estimate to reflect a higher crude oil price assumption of US$80.00/bbl. As a result, our 2026 net profit is projected at Bt73.37b, up 22% yoy.
